

COURSE OUTLINE:

Bank Analysis: Counterparty Credit Risk

2 days
16 CPE Credits

Overview

Whether you are an investor in bank debt or equity, a bank with relationships with other banks, or a corporation relying on your bank for your financing needs and as a home for your cash you have risk. The financial crisis has shown us that assumptions about bank safety and soundness can be misplaced. This seminar will teach participants the framework and tools necessary to analyze Community, Regional and Major Super-Regional banks' in the USA, utilizing the publicly available Bank Rating Methodology of our sister company, Moody's Investors Service. The course will offer a combination of short presentations, discussions, exercises, and case studies.

Learning Objectives

Upon completion of this seminar delegates will be able to:

- » apply a structured framework to analyze banking institutions
- » analyze key qualitative risk factors
- » identify, calculate and interpret key ratios
- » evaluate a bank's strength based on its published financial information
- » apply Moody's Investors Service ratings tools and methodology to Community, Regional and Super-Regional banks in the USA

Program Level

Program Level: Introductory

Prerequisites: No prior analytical experience is necessary but familiarity with the activities of banks, their business lines and organization is desirable. Research documents will be provided giving background to the case study that will be used during the course presentations.
