OVERVIEW & BENEFITS

Moody's Microlearning is an innovative training solution that empowers lenders to quickly build their credit acumen when and as they need to. By partitioning lending concepts and techniques into short, hyper-specific bursts of learning, it provides learners with an opportunity to rapidly access and complete training that can help them overcome challenges and make better decisions.

Accessible via an app or traditional web portal, Moody's Microlearning provides access to a collection of 100 microlessons across four distinct libraries:

- Acumen Builders expand on topics touched upon in our business and commercial lending courses, helping to take the learner's skills and knowledge to the next level.
- Ask the Expert features answers to the questions most frequently submitted through our Email-a-Mentor feature, reinforcing and expanding upon the learner's understanding of difficult topics.
- Dynamic Dictionary is a repository of lending-related terms that goes beyond a glossary, explaining each term using interactive illustrations, examples and demonstrations.
- In My Experience features stories from seasoned lenders, who reflect on their takeaways from their most memorable deals.

Whether deployed as a standalone training solution, or delivered in conjunction with one of our industry-leading eLearning courses, these libraries help to meet the ongoing learning needs of an increasingly tech- and convenience-minded workforce.

LEARNING OBJECTIVE

Expand your knowledge of lending- and financial accounting-related concepts via short bursts of targeted learning.

COMPETENCIES GAINED

Participants will be able to:

- Perform more rigorous loan analyses as they build their credit acumen
- Take ownership of their professional development as they identify and explore the topics most relevant to their on-the-job experiences
- Build confidence by using microlessons to confirm and apply their understanding of lending concepts
- Contribute to a culture of learning and knowledge sustainment

TARGET AUDIENCE

Moody's Microlearning is suitable for anyone involved in the commercial or small business lending process, including credit analysts, underwriters and relationship managers, and anyone involved in the second line of defense, such as loan reviewers and auditors.
