

Weigh the impact of climate and ESG risk on your credit decisions with seamless access to industry-leading data and analytics.

As interest and risk associated with climate and ESG factors continue to grow, financial institutions around the world are realizing that they must consider the potential impact on their credit business. Climate and ESG Risk Assessment in our CreditLens solution can help to simplify these complex factors and allow you to better understand and act on potential risk and opportunities.

Climate Risk Assessment

Climate Risk Assessment offers powerful climate data and analytics to help you understand the physical, transition, and combined risk associated with a borrower. Ability to document the climate risk assessment in the credit memo helps increase resolution and transparency for decision makers and stakeholders.

ESG Score Predictor

Our ESG Score Predictor generates a wide range of comparable and standardized metrics for assessing ESG and climate risk in portfolios where a full assessment for each underlying company is not possible. Using only company size, location, and industry as inputs, our models generate predicted metrics for each firm to ensure full portfolio coverage.

ESG Credit Risk Scorecard

The ESG Credit Risk Scorecard leverages the outputs of the ESG Score Predictor with additional ESG data, analytics, and expertise from across Moody's and provides a transparent framework for assessing the impact of ESG on the credit rating of an entity.

Each of these capabilities is directly accessible within our CreditLens solution so you can easily weigh the impact of ESG and climate risk on your credit decisions without increasing your workload or disrupting your process.
