NEW YORK, July 25, 2012— Moody's Analytics, a leader in risk measurement and management, has been named best client service provider by the readers of Structured Credit Investor (SCI). Moody's Analytics was also voted the second best global service provider in 2012.

The recognition of Moody's Analytics was part of SCI's 2012 customer satisfaction survey where winners are chosen by the readers of Structured Credit Investor, an ABS and structured credit publication with a circulation of more than 12,000 readers globally. The survey included 116 individual rankings and respondents rated 17 vendors on service capabilities such as pricing and valuations, analytics, risk management and regulation, among others.

"Moody's Analytics was evaluated amongst 17 competing vendors by some of our most senior readers and they ranked first for client service in 2012. This alone is indicative of Moody's Analytics' commitment to providing cutting-edge solutions and specialized advisory services to their clients," said Corinne Smith, Editor at SCI.

"We are honored that the readers of SCI have recognized Moody's Analytics as the best client service provider," said Luis Amador, Senior Director of Valuations & Advisory at Moody's Analytics. "New regulatory requirements have led to an increased demand for transparency throughout all sectors of the industry, especially in valuation and risk. We have invested significantly in our solutions and advisory services to help our clients stress deals across a number of different dimensions and analyze liquidity, market and credit risk"

To help portfolio managers better analyze the credit risk in their mortgage portfolios, Moody's Analytics recently updated Mortgage Portfolio Analyzer \(MPA\), its powerful risk management and capital allocation tool.
