MOODY'S ANALYTICS TOPS 2013 RISK TECHNOLOGY RANKINGS IN ECONOMIC, REGULATORY CAPITAL CALCULATION

NEW YORK, December 16, 2013 — Moody's Analytics, a leader in risk measurement and management, has been named Best Economic and Regulatory Capital Calculation Solution Provider by the readers of Risk magazine. The recognition is part of the 2013 Risk Technology Rankings, an industry award chosen by the readers of Risk magazine, which has more than 260,000 subscribers.

Moody's Analytics was also selected as a Top Vendor Overall and as a Top Solution Provider in the Regulatory Compliance and Reporting and Enterprise-wide Credit Risk Management categories.

Moody's Analytics was recognized for its regulatory capital solutions, RiskAuthority™ and RiskIntegrity™, and for its economic capital solutions, including RiskFrontier™ which is used primarily for credit portfolio management, valuation and stress testing.

"We are honored that the readers of Risk magazine have once again selected Moody's Analytics as the premier provider of economic and regulatory capital, reporting and credit risk solutions," said Jodi Alperstein, Managing Director, Moody's Analytics. "We are seeing an increased demand from our clients for reporting solutions that help to maximize returns, generate business insight and help them to make key strategic decisions."

Moody's Analytics provides risk management software, models, data and services to leading financial institutions around the world. Its award-winning solutions address the entire risk life cycle, from data aggregation and risk measurement to portfolio analytics and reporting.
