Moody's Analytics Wins Credit Data Provider of the Year at Risk Technology Awards

NEW YORK, July 11, 2019 – Moody's Analytics, a global provider of financial intelligence, has won Credit Data Provider of the Year in the 2019 Risk Technology Awards. It's one of six categories won, spanning finance, accounting, regulatory, and credit functions.

The combined strength of Moody's Analytics offerings earned the Credit Data Provider of the Year award. "We're honored by this recognition," said Jacob Grotta, Managing Director-Head of Risk & Finance Analytics. "Credit data challenges take many forms, and our capabilities are exemplified in a range of award-winning solutions."

Our Data Alliance is among the world's largest and most comprehensive data consortia. Its global contributors share origination and performance data in C&I, CRE, project finance, asset finance, and other asset classes – and in return receive benchmarking across a host of metrics as well as detailed reports on the risk and data quality of their portfolio.

Orbis, from Bureau van Dijk, a Moody's Analytics company, offers information on more than 310 million private companies. Our financial and related entity information are essential to business decisions.

For listed firms and sovereigns globally, the CreditEdge™ solution delivers market-driven probability of default metrics and more than 250 entity and industry data points for managing credit risk.

According to one of this year's awards judges, "Moody's Analytics never disappoints with bringing new capabilities to market to suit real industry needs."

This win adds to our growing list of awards and industry accolades.
