Moody's Analytics Wins GlobalCapital Securitization Technology Provider of the Year

NEW YORK, June 22, 2020 – Moody's Analytics has won Securitization Technology Provider of the Year at the GlobalCapital US Securitization Awards, as selected by the readers of GlobalCapital. This win adds to the growing list of awards and industry accolades for Moody's Analytics.

Few vendors can match the depth of our structured finance data, which goes back almost 30 years. Fewer still are able to pair such extensive content with a technology infrastructure that delivers content quickly, in exactly the ways customers want.

Our offerings evolve to align with customer needs and last year was no exception. We automated key data extraction processes, and streamlined how investment analysts can access all their data by consolidating it on one screen. Meanwhile, the acquisition of Deloitte's ABS Suite strengthened our position as a leading provider of structured finance issuer solutions.

"We're honored to have been voted Technology Securitization Provider of the Year," said David Little, Managing Director and Head of Structured Solutions at Moody's Analytics. "What sets us apart, and what the voters recognized in selecting Moody's Analytics for this award, is the combination of our rich historical data and our forward-looking technology on top, equipping customers with the information they need to make better, faster decisions."

The list of nominees for each GlobalCapital award is compiled from industry nominations, GlobalCapital's own research, and peer review. The editors of GlobalCapital then select a short list of nominees for each award and present them to readers for voting.
