Global entity data

Use Orbis to enrich and refresh your in-house data. Orbis' unique identifiers and bespoke matching/de-duping/enhancing services can help create links between disparate data sets across your organization, creating single customer views from data silos.

Underwriting

Orbis makes it easier to price risk by providing more detailed information about a company, including company financial statements and financial risk models. Where possible Orbis provides more than 2,500 data items per company, giving you the data you need to make better decisions. You can even integrate Orbis data into your current workflow to automate your pricing decisions for greater efficiency.

Know Your Customer (KYC)

Use Orbis to enhance your Know Your Customer (KYC) research, reputation risk management and client due diligence. Use sanctions, watchlists, media and PEP data to help make risk-based decisions with greater confidence, based on reliable, timely data points.

Procurement and supplier risk management

Confidently assess the risk of working with a third party including financial, cyber, ESG and compliance risks, helping you stay in line with increasing regulatory and reputational concerns. Monitor these third parties using our catalyst solutions to remove workload from your team and remain aware of your exposure to risks as they evolve.

Business development and strategy

Use our award-winning Orbis data to enrich the customer firmographic data you already have in your CRM system, so you can identify and evaluate new prospects. Our Connectors for Salesforce and Microsoft Dynamics make it easy.

Corporate finance and M&A

Orbis lets you analyze individual companies in detail and compare companies against each other. You can build very specific searches to help you find potential target companies.

You also get exceptional coverage of deals and rumors with a subscription to our Orbis M&A database.

Transfer pricing

Orbis combines company data with transfer pricing functionality, so you can plan, set policies and manage risk. You can also document your compliance procedures to help with the full TP analysis process. Our feasibility and savings analyses mean you can finetune your policies, create robust audit-defense analysis and prepare TP documentation. We've also created a full document management system to help with BEPS and country-by-country (CbC) reporting requirements.
