CONSUMER CREDIT INSIGHTS TO IMPROVE RISK MANAGEMENT AND BUSINESS PERFORMANCE

CreditForecast makes sense of how U.S. and local economic conditions affect consumer credit behavior. It offers granular insights and forecasts of performance, volume and quality under baseline and alternative scenarios across consumer credit asset classes. Industry-leading economic scenarios and modelling expertise from Moody's Analytics combined with exclusive consumer credit data from Equifax helps you uncover risks and opportunities faster.

CreditForecast covers all consumer product lines and key performance metrics. For example, clients can look up the number of 35-month auto bank loans in Virginia that are 60-days delinquent that had a credit score between 660-699 when they were originated in 2018 Q2.
